provisional prices (if final accounts have not been approved) when assets are handed over and placed in service.

Under State regulations on investment and construction management, the final accounts of completed construction works require approval from competent authorities. Accordingly, the final value of construction works may change subject to such approval.

9. Prepaid Expenses

Prepaid expenses are classified as short-term or long-term based on their original term, principally relating to the cost of tools and supplies issued for use. They are amortised over the prepaid period or the period over which economic benefits are expected to arise. The following are capitalised as prepaid expenses:

- Tools and supplies: amortised over 18 months to 3 years to operating results.
- Major one-off repair costs where the Company does not pre-accrue: amortised progressively to operating results.

10. Payables

Payables are classified as trade payables and other payables. Trade payables are commercial obligations arising from purchases of goods, services, or assets from an independent seller. All remaining payables are classified as other payables. Payables are monitored by original maturity, remaining maturity at the reporting date, original currency, and counterparty. Payables are recorded at no less than the amount of the obligation to be settled.

11. Accrued Expenses

Accrued expenses are recognised for amounts payable in future periods relating to goods or services already received from suppliers during the reporting period but not yet paid due to the absence of invoices or adequate documentation. They are recognised in production and business costs of the reporting period. The Company's accrued expenses primarily comprise accrued interest, determined based on outstanding principal for unpaid interest days and the applicable interest rate.

12. Borrowing Costs

Capitalisation Principle

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction, or production of assets that necessarily take a substantial period of time to be ready for their intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of those assets until they are ready for use or sale. Income earned on temporary investment of borrowed funds is deducted from the cost of the related asset. All other borrowing costs are recognised in the income statement when incurred.

13. Science and Technology Development Fund

The Science and Technology Development Fund is established to create a funding source for the Company's science and technology activities. The Fund is formed by allocating up to 10% of taxable income before corporate income tax, and is recognised in operating results for the year. If at least 70% of the Fund is not utilised within 5 years from the date of appropriation, the Company is obligated to remit to the State budget the corporate income tax on the remaining fund balance, plus late payment interest thereon.

14. Owners' Equity

Owners' capital

Owners' capital is recognized based on the actual capital contributed by the owners.

Interest Income on Deposits

Interest income on deposits is recognised on an accrual basis, based on the outstanding deposit balances and applicable interest rates.

Deductions arising in a subsequent period but before the financial statements are issued are adjusted against revenue in the reporting period. Deductions arising in a subsequent period and after the financial statements are issued are adjusted against revenue in the period in which the deduction arises.

17. Construction Contracts

When the outcome of a construction contract can be reliably estimated, contract revenue and costs are recognised by reference to the stage of completion at the reporting date. Stage of completion is measured as the proportion of contract costs incurred for work performed to the total estimated contract costs, except where this does not reflect the volume of work completed. Contract costs may include additional costs, claims, and incentive payments agreed with the customer.

When the outcome of a construction contract cannot be reliably estimated:

- Revenue is recognised only to the extent of contract costs incurred that it is probable will be recoverable.
- Contract costs are recognised as an expense in the period in which they are incurred.
