Based on the regulations on information disclosure, the Corporation provides explanations for the fluctuations in some key financial indicators as follows:

Net profit after tax shifted from a loss in the same period last year to a profit this period and increased by over 10% compared to the same period last year:

In the first quarter of 2026, the consolidated after-tax profit of the Corporation showed a positive change compared to the same period last year, shifting from a loss to a profit. The main reasons are:

- Other income increased compared to the same period, mainly arising from the revenue received from the Corporation winning a lawsuit according to the Decision of the Supreme People's Court in Judgment No. 89/2026/HC-PT dated February 10, 2026, with a recorded value of VND 6,55 billion;

- Other expenses decreased compared to the same period, as some unusual expenses incurred in the previous period are no longer incurred in this period.

Vietnam Electronics and Informatics Corporation provides this explanation to clarify significant fluctuations in the consolidated financial statements first quarter for 2026. The disclosure and explanation aim to ensure full transparency of information to regulatory authorities, shareholders, and investors in compliance with applicable regulations.

The Corporation hereby commits that the disclosed information is true, accurate, and in full compliance with current regulations on information disclosure in the securities market.
